

Independence Through Setting Higher Goals

Faraydon Karim, PhD

Review of the class formation

- In the last conference described the new class formation in politics of Kurdistan.
 - The Kurdayati class
 - The generation of political organization and individuals who devoted to preserve the Kurdish identity.
 - Arm struggle against forces of oppression and cultural assimilation of destruction
 - Demanded simple identity needs like citizenship, language, culture, voice in media, a participation in government
 - All demands were within the brackets of existing regimes

Review-2

- The Kurdistan in the (North, East, and West) are still in the kurdiety stage.

Because the severity of conditions of this class the fragmentations were partly a historical necessity to exist.

Many of these fragmentations were due to meddling of enemies in their business, and some of them were caused by differences in their leadership positions, many other causes were ideological in nature from extreme Islamism, to extreme liberalism and so on.

The New Class Formation

– The Kurdistanchiati Class:

- This class evolved in the Southern part of Kurdistan after the establishment of KRG.
- It is more concerned with equity, expression, ownership. It has almost the same aspirations and demands of advanced and industrialized countries
- New organization appearing to represent them
- This class is growing and penetrating all the aspects of the society and political parties in Southern Kurdistan

Multiple Political Parties with multiple Issues

- It is natural that each group has different issues to deal with.
- Each group holds their issues and aspiration dear to their hearts.
- Of course multi-issues and aspirations will cause deeper differences among groups.
- Smaller goals and concerns become impossible to agree on everything

Big Goals lead to Unity

Sothern Kurdistan is the LAB

- Sothern Kurdistan is the real laboratory to experiment and study the situation for unity of Kurdistan because it has all the characteristics of various groups.

How to Unite?

We must accept the KRG as a number one focal point in Unification of Kurds and concentrating of Energies.

- We have to claim the ownership of it regardless of differences of opinions about it.
- We must use it as a bridge for higher goals

Big Goals Lead to Unity

- When these fragments adopt larger goals like “Establishing an independent Kurdistan state”, we will come closer to focus together and get closer
- They must rise up with their goals:
 - For example the following goals are important to unify various groups
 1. Solid Three-Pronged Governmental System
 2. Establish a strong economical infrastructure
 3. Unified inter-groups communication Language
 4. Strong Culture and Educational System
 5. Strong Globally-Political Aware Leaders
 6. Strong International Relations
 7. Strong Peshmarga and Police

Three-Pronged Government

- The Executive Branch

- The Presidency Office

- Clearly guided by National aspiration
 - Global-Political Aware leadership with complete Advisories in each areas of Interest

- Prime Minister and Ministers

- Must outline his goals and ambitions before he swears in taking office. He should be questioned in Parliament on how he will achieve his goals
 - How we will observe and manage the progress

- The Parliament

- All members:

- Members must know which community they are representing.
 - They must have an offices close their own communities to hear their constituents

- The Judicial System

- Must be separate and Independent from the other two branches.

Strong Economical Infrastructure

- Today the economy is running by oil money
 - It is not a bad revenue, but with one little embargo I wonder what will happen to Kurdistan?
 - Enhance the oil industry and its derivatives
 - Kurdistan used to be called Bread-basket of the Middle east.
 - Now the basket is coming from abroad. This must be solved
 - Concentrate on Agriculture Industry
 - There is no real production manpower.
 - Need to enhance small businesses
 - Good Business laws
 - Create skilled manpower
 - Must mandate foreign investors to use Kurdish manpower

Unified Language

- The other problem in unifying Kurds is eliminating the language barrier.
- Kirmanji and Sorani speakers are getting closer to understand the problem
 - While Zaza speakers believe their dialect is the best and must be adopted by all.
- We must create a common communication language for official use through an ocean of words in our language dictionary

Preserve the Culture

- The culture was/is under attack
 - We must preserve it and observe it
 - Separate the entangled Kurdish history with Persians
 - Respecting Kurdish history and symbols
 - Preserve our historical places and make them sites for people to see.
 - Enhance studies of old Kurdish religions as they carry a plethora of information about Kurdish way of thinking.
 - Integrate the culture of globalization and tolerance

Strong Educational System

- Educational system
 - Enhance the universities with all their fields
 - Establish new systems in education
 - Improve Academic skills for industrialization
 - Increase sending candidates abroad to learn from true and real sources of science and technology
 - Translate books in literature and science fast and enrich the libraries
 - Create a Reading Nation By:
 - Enhance publishing, translating children books and make them mandatory in elementary schools to read many books weekly to start generation that will read.
 - Then year after year penetrate higher level grades
 - Teach research methods starting from elementary school
 - Writing yearly reports mandatory for all grades

Capable State aware Leaders

- We need Leadership to show understanding what leadership is:
 - They must know about management of organization
 - Motivation
 - Delegation
 - Negotiation
 - Goals setting
 - etc

Strong International Relations

- It is true KRG is not an independent state but it can do the following:
 - Establish cultural relationship via the embassy cultural interest.
 - Student exchanges
 - National occasions
 - Arts and literature
 - Using Iraqi Banking as a bridge to establish Kurdistan Bank even under the same name and system for future monetary policies
 - Business development with various companies under rules that enhances Kurdish industry and labor

Strong Peshmarga/Police Force

- Strong peshmarga for defensive purposes
 - Well educated
 - Well equipped
 - Well Trained
- Strong Police force
 - Well educated and aware of laws
 - Well equipped
 - Well trained

Conclusion

- The fact is the Kurds in all 4 parts are different and internally are also fragmented.
- The Southern Kurdistan is mirror image of all parts.
- KRG is an important establishment that we have and must work for its strength not destruction
- Kurdish groups must adopt a few higher goals that unite them all around the same path.
